

International Support Team Open Call

The first phase of the International Ambassador's work will focus exclusively on supporting local scout groups to travel abroad. The work will involve the development of a structured process of international project planning and delivery, along with research of resources, partnerships and funding avenues to support local scout groups to participate in international scouting experiences.

If you are interested in being directly involved in the process of developing the process to support local scout groups to access quality international scouting experiences, then I encourage you to apply for the International Support Team. Please direct any queries to Caillum at international@scouts.ie
